

EXTERIOR FINISHES

Color Combinations

Whether achieving a clean, elegant finish with natural tones or making a statement with bold contrast colors, these combinations are sure to help you find the perfect fit for your home.

As you explore the possibilities for your exterior paint job, the following tips are helpful pointers:

- Unless you are doing a complete renovation, plan around aspects of your home that you don't plan to change such as driveways, stonework, and roof shingles or tiles. Consider if their tones are warm or cool and what color would match the best.
- Think about the visual effect you would like to achieve. Darker colors will generally make your home appear smaller while lighter tones may make it seem larger.
- You may want to decide on additional contrast colors for the fixtures on your home. Choosing an accent color for parts such as the front door and shutter can provide an appealing look.
- It may be useful to think about what type of statement or ambience you would like your home to achieve. What colors do you find welcoming? What tones attract you most?
- Use paint swatches to test different color schemes and how they will look in your neighborhood or environment. Viewing these samples and how they appear at different times of the day will ensure you pick the best color for you.
